CLOSING HYMN

Wonderful Grace of Jesus #206

“Lord, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is; that I may know how frail I am.” -Psalm 39:4

When we, by God’s grace, are wise enough to face death, judgment, and eternity, things are seen in their proper light. All these ideas of fame, fortune, friends, and our so-called importance melt like the frost before the sun. Death reveals the truth, blows away the chaff, shuts a man’s mouth, and opens the books! Death takes no notice of what I thought nor what others thought of me, but only what God thinks. “Oh, that I may win Christ and be found in Him.”

-Henry Mahan

"Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ." - Romans 1: 7

Salvation is entirely by the grace of God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. All who God saves are chosen by grace, redeemed by grace, regenerated by grace, called by grace, gifted by grace, grown by grace, preserved by grace, resurrected by grace and at last presented faultless to God by grace.

-pastor Clay Curtis

We Are Saved by Hope

For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for (Rom. 8:24)?

Hope is a blessed gift of the Spirit of God. We are saved by hope but when we see what we have hoped for, hope ceases.

This world is evil in every way, politically, socially, morally and spiritually; there is no hope in this present wicked world there never was and there is not now.

There is no hope in our flesh, when sin seems to reign and darkness is all around us, yet, I said yet, we are not without hope. Because the Lord Jesus who loved us and washed us from our sins in His own blood, shall one day return and deliver us from this body of death and take us from this valley of the shadow of death.

So no matter what happens in this world, it is not our home we are just strangers and pilgrims, we don't feel at home here, but what a blessed and glorious hope we have when Christ shall appear then shall we also appear with him. Old sinful self I'll leave you behind, heartaches, fears doubts, troubles, sorrows, sighs, groans, and especially death I'll leave all of you behind. But until that day HOPE keeps on looking out the window looking for my Master to come. Even so come Lord Jesus.

-pastor Donnie Bell

Praying For Christ's Sake

“For thy name’s sake, O LORD, pardon mine iniquity; for it is great.”
(Psalm 25:11)

If you would plead with the Lord for any blessing, ask that the Lord bless you for His name’s sake. Ask to receive a blessing from God so that Christ will be glorified. If you need salvation, pray that the Lord save you so that Christ will get the glory for saving such a great sinner as you. If you need forgiveness of sin, pray that the Lord forgive you so that Christ will get the glory in forgiving such a great sinner. If you need cleansing from your sin, pray that the Lord will cleanse you in the blood of Christ. Surely Christ will get great glory when His precious blood cleanses a vile sinner like me and makes a filthy, sin stained sinner like me, to be white as snow.

-pastor Frank Tate

Mercy

There has never been a sinner who asked for mercy who was denied. I have had many people over the years tell me that they have asked for mercy and their prayer went unheard. The reason their prayer was not heard was they were not really asking for mercy.

When a sinner asks for mercy, two things are crystal clear in his heart. First, his sin is all his fault. He cannot blame God's sovereignty, his circumstances, or someone else. If I do not take complete responsibility for my sin, it is impossible to ask for mercy. Mercy is needed only when my sin is all my fault. Secondly, mercy is God's to give or withhold. Any objection to God being sovereign in giving His mercy to whom He will is leaving the ground of mercy and entering the ground of entitlement. If I fail to see my sin is all my fault and that mercy is God's to give or withhold, I have never really asked for mercy. But if I confess before God my sin is all my fault, and acknowledge His sovereign mercy is His to give or withhold and cry out, "God be merciful to me the sinner," I will have mercy. There has never been a sinner who sought mercy who was denied.
