The Law Reveals Sin

If I measure a crooked wall with a perfect plumb line, it reveals the crookedness of the wall, but does not remove it. If I take out a bright light on a dark night, it reveals to me all the pitfalls and hindrances, but it does not remove them. Now the plumb line and the lamp do not create the evils which they point out. They neither create nor remove, but simply reveal. So it is with the law. It does not create the evil in man's heart; neither does it remove it. But with unerring accuracy, it reveals it. "What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God Forbid! Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet." Romans 7:7.

- Scott Richardson (1923-2010)

"And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." Revelation. 22:17

The verse of Scripture above leaves every man without excuse before God for not coming, by faith, to Christ. The Holy Spirit and the bride of Christ say, "Come." Those who have been given a hearing ear to the voice of the Great Shepherd of the sheep say, "Come!" And having heard the Gospel of God's grace in Christ, do you now thirst for the righteousness of God in Christ Jesus, then "Come!" To come to Christ is to come, in heart, as a lost, helpless and needy sinner desiring salvation that is found only in Him. "Come"...without your works or worthiness and according to His word and promise, He shall in no wise cast you out.

-pastor Marvin Stalnaker

True Faith

When the Lord is pleased to bring a person to Christ in faith, He takes away his despair but not his sorrow over sin. True faith gives a person pardon but does not make him presumptuous. True faith gives a person rest and assurance in Christ but does not allow him to be indifferent and leave off being watchful and dedicated to spiritual growth. True faith gives a person strength, knowledge, and a good hope; but it never promotes pride nor allows him to boast. True faith brings a person to live for God but at the same time makes him more attentive to his earthly relationships and duties. He becomes a more loving, caring, generous husband, wife, parent, brother, sister, and neighbor.

When Paul said to the Roman church, "Your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world" (Rom. 8:8), it is certain he referred to their labor of love and works of faith; for true faith can only be revealed to others by the FRUIT OF FAITH. One cannot see our hearts, but they can see and hear what comes FROM our hearts and hands.

-Henry Mahan

"Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger toward us to cease." - Psalm 85:4

When Peter walked on the water and saw the boisterous waves, the howling wind and began to sink, he simply prayed, "Lord save me." A certain woman of Canaan, whom the Lord referred to as a Gentile dog, had a possessed daughter, and in seeking mercy for her she prayed, "Lord help me." The thief on the cross who had been touched by the grace of God simply uttered, "Lord remember me." When the enlightened sinner sees that they are drowning in their sin, and that they are nothing but a dog and a convicted criminal, they won't make a long discourse of words showing how much they know about sin, they will simply beg to be delivered from it.

-pastor David Eddmenson

There are three classes of servants: the slave who serves through fear, the hireling who serves for wages, and the son who serves for love.

-pastor Donnie Bell

"My hope is built on nothing less
Than Jesus' blood and righteousness
I dare not trust the sweetest frame,
But wholly lean on Jesus' name.
On Christ the solid Rock, I stand
All other ground is sinking sand"
